Yizkor Memorial Service
The Sephardic Temple
Congregation Emeth VeShalom

The Sephardic Temple has prepared this Memorial Service containing the text of the "Yizkor" Memorial Service and the names of those who are remembered by their loved ones. In addition, meditations and readings from traditional sources have been included. These excerpts have been selected to offer solace as we recall those who have been called on High.

This booklet is being distributed to our worshipers for use during the recital of Yizkor at the Yom Kippur Service and at other times during the year when Yizkor is recited.

We express once again our thanks to the family of the late and beloved Lillie and Freddie Hazan for endowing the publication of this Memorial Book. Their generosity makes it possible to begin a tradition that is becoming popular in many American synagogues.

Please treat this memorial Book with respect as it contains holy prayers and the Hebrew name of God. It should be accorded the same holiness and care as a Hebrew prayer book which must be buried as genizah in a Jewish cemetery when it is no longer being used.

Place this Memorial Book on the bookshelf of your home and refer to the readings and meditations when by chance you recall the memories of those beloved who dwelled on this earth and left us a better place to live and love.

PEARLS FROM OUR SAGES

To what can life be compared? To a bucket that is dropped in a pond. When it first enters the water, it is empty. But when it is drawn back up to the owner, it returns full. So too, when we enter the world, we have no mitzvot to our name. But when we return, we have a lifetime full of good thoughts, kind words, and noble deeds. (Kohellet Rabba)

"The ultimate foundation and pillar of wisdom is the realization that there is a first Being, without beginning or end, who brought everything into existence and continues to sustain it. This Being is G-d." (Maimonides, Yesodei HaTorah 1:1)

"The sum of all evidence is this: Revere G-d and keep His commandments; for this is the purpose of the life of man." (Ecclesiastes 12:13)

"G-d has compassion like a father and comforts like a mother." (Pesikta Rabbati 139a)

"Every Jew is full of mitzvot like a pomegranate is full of seeds." (Beraishit Rabbah 32:10)

"The Holy One, Blessed be He, does not withhold reward from any creature, for any positive act." (Talmud-Bava Kama 38)

Once upon a time, a wise man went to the docks to watch as ships entered and left the port. He noticed that, as one ship sailed out toward the open sea, all the people on the dock cheered and wished it well. Meanwhile, another ship entered the port and docked. By and large, the crowd ignored it.

The wise man addressed the people saying, "You are looking at things backwards! When a vessel leaves, you do not know what lays ahead or what its end will be. So there really is no reason to cheer. But when a vessel enters the harbor and arrives safely home, that is something to make you feel joy."

Life is that journey and we are the vessel. When a child is born, we celebrate. When a soul returns home, we mourn. Yet if we viewed life on earth the way the wise man viewed the ship, perhaps we too could say, "The vessel has gone on its journey, it has weathered the storms of life, it has finally entered the harbor and now it is safely home." (Midrash, Shemot Rabbah)

WE RECALL

Some of us recall parents who watched over us, nursed us, guided us, and sacrificed for us.

Some of us lovingly call to mind a wife, husband, or partner with whom we were truly united—in our hopes and our pains, in our failures and our achievements, in our joys and our sorrows.

Some of us remember brothers and sisters, who grew up together with us, sharing in the play of childhood, in the youthful adventure of discovering life's possibilities, bound to us by a heritage of family tradition and by years of togetherness and love.

Some of us call to mind children, entrusted to us too briefly, to whom we gave our loving care and from whom we received a trust that enriched our lives.

So many of us recall beloved relatives and friends whose affection and devotion enhanced our lives, and whose visible presence will never return to cheer, encourage, or support us.

Though they are gone, we are grateful for the blessings they brought to our lives. We are sustained and comforted by the thought that their presence in our lives remains an enduring blessing that we can bequeath to others.

We can show our devotion to them by our devotion to those ideas that they cherished.

O God of love, make us worthy of the love we have received by teaching us to love You with all our heart and with all our soul and with all our might, and to spread the light of Your divine love on all whose lives touch ours.

Give us strength to live faithfully, for we are cheered by our confidence that You will not permit our lives to be wasted, but will bring all our worthy strivings to live on, even as we may not see their fulfillment.

Meditations and Readings

“...Blessed are You, Lord, our Father,
God of Israel, for ever and ever.
Yours, Lord, is the greatness,
and the power, and the glory,
and the victory, and the majesty;
for all that is in heaven and earth is Yours;
Yours is the kingdom, Lord,
and You are exalted as head above all;
and in Your hand is power and might;
and in Your hand it is to make great,
and to give strength unto all.
Now therefore, our God, we thank You and praise Your glorious name.” (I Chronicles 29:10-13)

בְּרוּךְ אַתָּה ד' אֱלֹהֵי יִשְׂרָאֵל אָבִינוּ מְעוֹלָם וְעַד-עוֹלָם:
לָךְ ד' הַגְּדֵלָה וְהַגְּבוּרָה
וְהַתְּפָאֶרֶת וְהַנִּצְחָה וְהַהוֹד
כִּי-כֹל בְּשָׁמַיִם וּבָאָרֶץ
לָךְ ד' הַמְּמַלְכָה וְהַמְּתַנַּשֵּׂא לְכֹל לְרֹאשׁ:
וְהַעֲשֵׂר וְהַכְּבוֹד מִלְּפָנֶיךָ וְאַתָּה מוֹשֵׁל בְּכֹל
וּבְיָדְךָ כַּחַם וְגְבוּרָה וּבְיָדְךָ לַגְּדֹל וְלַחֲזֵק לְכֹל:
וְעַתָּה אֱלֹהֵינוּ מוֹדִים אֲנַחְנוּ לָךְ וּמְהֻלְלִים לְשֵׁם תְּפָאֶרֶתְךָ:

THE EXISTENCE OF GOD

Sensitive people need to believe in the existence of God, in order to understand the world. The purpose and order and beauty of creation leaves them with the over-powering conviction that some guiding Intelligence, of infinite power, wisdom and goodness, is behind it all. The void that would be created by the surrender of this conviction would make our world totally irrational.

But the belief in the existence of God fills another need for sensitive people. It helps them find meaning in their own existence. No one can meet the challenging demands of living without the sustaining faith that one's work serves some abiding purpose. But what purpose of mine can have abiding significance unless there is significance in the entire drama of life in which it plays a part? Unless this be so, every individual episode within it is doomed to frustration, regardless of outcome.

The individual passengers aboard a ship cannot be sailing towards a destination unless the ship itself is being steered by some captain's hand. Otherwise, the ship will only drift. It will battle against the waves, but it will find no haven.

Rabbi Ben Zion Bokser, The Gift of Life

NO RELIGION IS AN ISLAND

No religion is an island;
there is no monopoly on holiness.

*We are companions of all who revere God.
We rejoice when the divine name is praised.*

No religion is an island;
we share the kinship of humanity,
the capacity for compassion.

God's spirit rests upon all, Jew or Gentile, man or woman, in consonance with their deeds.

The creation of one Adam promotes peace.
No one can claim: My ancestry is nobler than yours.

*There is no monopoly on holiness;
there is no truth without humility.*

We are diverse in our devotion and commitment.
We must unite in working now for the sovereignty of God.

*God is near to all who call upon Him in truth.
There can be disagreement without disrespect.*

Let us help one another overcome hardness of heart,
opening minds to the challenges of faith.

*Should we hope for each other's failure?
Or should we pray for each other's welfare?*

Let mutual concern replace remnants of mutual contempt,
as we share the precarious position of being human.

Have we not all one Creator? Are we not all God's children?

Let us not be guided by ignorance or disdain.
Let lives of holiness illumine all our paths.

*The hand of God is extended to all who seek Him.
Let our deeds reflect that we share the image of God.*

Let those who revere the Eternal speak one to another, leading everyone to acknowledge the splendor of God.

— adapted from Abraham Joshua Heschel

THIS IS MY PRAYER

This is my prayer to You, my God:
Let not my spirit wither and shrivel in its thirst for You and lose the dew
with which You sprinkled it when I was young.

May my heart be open
to every broken soul,
to orphaned life,
to every stumbler
wandering unknown
and groping in the shadows.

Bless my eyes, purify me to see man's beauty rise in the world, and the glory of my people in its redeemed land spreading its fragrance over all the earth.

Deepen and broaden my senses to absorb a fresh
green, flowering world,
to take from it the secret of blossoming in silence.

Grant strength to yield fine fruits,
quintessence of my life,
steeped in my very being,
without expectation of reward.

And when my time comes — let me slip into the night demanding nothing, God, of man, or of You.

— Hillel Bavli

WHAT GOD HATH PROMISED

God hath not promised
Skies always blue,
Flower-strewn pathways
All our lives through;
God hath not promised sun without rain,
Joy without sorrow,
Peace without pain.

But God hath promised
Strength for the day,
Rest for the labor,
Light for the way,
Grace for the trials,
Help from above,
Unfailing sympathy,
Undying love.

Annie Johnson Flint

IT IS NEVER TOO LATE

The last word has not been spoken the last sentence has not been written the final verdict is not in

It is never too late to change my mind
my direction
to say “no” to the past and “yes” to the future
to offer remorse
to ask and give forgiveness

It is never too late to start over again
to feel again
to love again
to hope again

It is never too late to overcome despair
to turn sorrow into resolve and pain into purpose

It is never too late to alter my world not by magic incantations or manipulations of the cards or deciphering the stars

But by opening myself to curative forces buried within to hidden energies
the powers in my interior self.

It is never too late –
Some word of mine,
some touch, some caress may be remembered
Some gesture may play a role beyond the last movement of my head and hand.

Write it on my epitaph
that my loved ones be consoled:
It is never too late

Rabbi Harold M. Schulweis

LIFE IS TOO BRIEF

Life is too brief
Between the budding and the falling leaf.
Between the seed time and the golden sheaf,
 For hate and spite.
We have no time for malice and for greed;
Therefore, with love make beautiful the deed;
 Fast speed the night.

Life is too swift
Between the blossom and the white snow's drift,
Between the silence and the lark's uplift,
 For bitter words.
In kindness and in gentleness our speech
Must carry messages of hope, and reach
 The sweetest chords.

Life is too great
Between the infant's and the man's estate,
Between the clashing of earth's strife and fate,
 For petty things.
Lo! we shall yet who creep with cumbered feet
Walk glorious over heaven's golden street,
 Or soar on wings!

W. M. Vories

THE LOOM OF TIME

Man's life is laid in the loom of time
To a pattern he does not see,
While the weavers work and the shuttles fly
Till the dawn of eternity.

Some shuttles are filled with silver threads
And some with threads of gold,
While often but the darker hues
Are all that they may hold.

But the weaver watches with skillful eye
Each shuttle fly to and fro,
And sees the pattern so deftly wrought
As the loom moves sure and slow.

God surely planned the pattern,
Each thread, the dark and the fair,
Is chosen by His master skill
And placed in the web with care.

He only knows its beauty,
And guides the shuttles which hold
The threads so unattractive,
As well as the threads of gold.

Not till each loom is silent
And the shuttles cease to fly,
Shall God reveal the pattern
And explain the reason why

The dark threads were as needful
In the weaver's skillful hand
As the threads of gold and silver
For the pattern which He planned.

Consolation from rabbinic lore

THE JEWELS

One Sabbath afternoon, while Rabbi Meir was in the House of Study, his two sons fell into a well and were drowned. Griefstricken, his wife Beruriah, carried them into her room and covered them. In the evening, when Rabbi Meir returned, he asked:

Instead of replying, Beruriah handed him a goblet of wine for the recital of the Havdalah service.

After Rabbi Meir drank from the goblet, he again asked:

“Where are the children?”

“You will soon see them,” said Beruriah, and placed the evening meal before him.

After he had said Grace, Beruriah turned to her husband: “I would like to ask you a question. Not long ago, some precious jewels were entrusted to my care. I became so attached to them that I regarded them as my own. Now, the owner has come to reclaim them. What shall I do?”

“I am surprised that you who know the Law ask such a question.” Rabbi Meir said. “Naturally, the jewels belong to their owner and must be returned.”

Beruriah then gently led her husband to the room and lifted the sheet from the bodies of their dead sons.

“My sons! My sons!” cried Rabbi Meir.

Tearfully, Beruriah reminded him:

“Did you not say that we must restore to the Owner that which He has entrusted to our care? Our sons were the jewels which God had left with us.”

Together they wept and then they said “They were a gift from God.”

“The Lord has given; the Lord has taken away; blessed is the name of the Lord.”

FOR EVERYTHING THERE IS A SEASON

READER

For everything there is a season,
And a time for every matter under the heavens.

ALL READING

A time to be born, and a time to die.

READER

We cannot choose our time of birth, but we can choose our manner of life. We cannot hope to live forever, but we can choose to live with courage.

ALL READING

For everything there is a season,
And a time for every matter under the heavens.
A time to plant, and a time to harvest what has been planted.

READER

Nothing grows without our planting; the gift of life is the gift of possibility which our labor makes real. After faithful planting and nurture, the harvest will come.

ALL READING

For everything there is a season,
And a time for every matter under the heavens. A time to kill,
and a time to heal.

READER

Now is the time to begin to remake ourselves, so that we kill only the ignorance and evil within us and around us: this work of healing is the meaning of Atonement.

ALL READING

For everything there is a season, And a time for every matter under the heavens. A time to break down, and a time to build up.

READER

The day has come to break down old habits of thought, in which men who differ from others are despised. Time now to revere the human image, to be generous in dealing with our fellowmen.

For everything there is a season, And a time for every matter under the heavens. A time to weep, and a time to laugh.

READER

We must weep to see talents wasted and gifts misused: men, women, and children thwarted by poverty and oppression, their hope for happiness stillborn, while some use their skills to keep them from attaining to their birthright. There will come a time when men will laugh to think that such things were done in the childhood of our race.

ALL READING

A time to mourn, and a time to dance.

READER

We mourn with all who suffer loss, and ease their burden with our care; and then we dance and draw them into our circle of joy: that human circle which remains unbroken, while God is present in our song.

ALL READING

A time to embrace, and a time to refrain from embracing.

READER

Then it is time to embrace, to hold the beating heart enfolded within our arms, and closer still, as spirit touches soul, and we are one. But when to refrain? Only when a call for help draws us to another, and there is work to do. But always we are warm with the memory of embracing, and the promise of the time to come.

ALL READING

A time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones together.

READER

Cast away the rubble, the rocks, the wasted years. Remove the stones from the land and make it live again, fertile and green. Take the stones and build schools for our children, buildings where we may work and sing, think and pray, rejoice and rest.

ALL READING

There is a time to seek, and a time to lose.

READER

Let us seek one another, and find ourselves; let us lose those things within us which cause us to be lost to the true goodness which God has placed within us.

ALL READING

There is a time to keep, and a time to cast away.

READER

May we learn here to keep faith with ourselves and with the promise of our godlike manhood, casting away the bitterness and self-seeking which make us less than we can be.

ALL READING

There is a time to keep silence, and a time to speak.

READER

To keep silence, when to speak would be to hurt our neighbor and bring us shame; to speak out, when silence would be betrayal, when the truth must be loud, when the weak need strength, and victims of injustice a champion.

ALL READING

For everything there is a season ... A time to love, and a time to hate.

READER

What shall we love, if not the good, the eternal and the lovely in man and nature? Whom shall we love, if not the ones closest to us? But what should we hate except hate itself, and all that sets itself with malice against the human face?

ALL READING

And a time for every matter under the heavens. A time for war, and a time for peace.

READER

May we learn to wage war for man, and not against him. Let us wage war on war itself. This is our prophetic task, that the time to come may be a time of peace.

ALL READING

A time for God, and a time for man. We turn to both in loyal love, and pledge ourselves to honor our heritage, to keep our covenant, to live our faith-walking with God, aspiring to perfection, laboring for a better life and a fruitful world, in a time of peace.

LIFE IS WORTH LITTLE UNLESS...

Lately, I have been thinking about what the goal of life should be. At best, man's life is short. His life may be kind or harsh, easy or difficult, but the time passes before he realizes it. An old person wants to live no less than a young person. The years of life do not satisfy the hunger for life. What then shall we do during this time?

We can reach either of two conclusions. The first is that since life is so short we should enjoy it as much as possible. The second is that precisely because life is short and no one can completely enjoy it (for we die with half our desires unsatisfied), therefore we should dedicate life to a sacred and worthy goal, to sacrifice it for something which will be valued above life. At times the first feeling is stronger and at others the second one. Of late, however, I think that the second feeling is dominant. It seems that I am slowly coming to the conclusion that life by itself is worth little unless it serves something greater than itself.

Eldad Pan (Translated from the Hebrew by R. Sidney Greenberg)
Eldad Pan was killed in Israel's War of Independence at the age of twenty, a veteran of many battles.

WITH ALL THY MIGHT...

The presence of God demands more than the presence of mind. Kavanah is direction to God and requires the redirection of the whole person. It is the act of bringing together the scattered forces of the self; the participation of heart and soul, not only of will and mind; the integration of the soul with the theme of the mitsvah.

It is one thing to be for a cause and another thing to be in a cause. It is not enough to help thy neighbor; "Thou shalt love thy neighbor." It is not enough to serve thy God; you are asked "to serve Him with all your heart and with all your soul" (Deuteronomy 11:13). It is not enough to love Him: "thou shalt love...with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy might" (Deuteronomy 6:5-6)

Abraham Joshua Heschel, God In Search of Man

THE "DASH"

I read of a man who stood to speak
At the funeral of his friend.
He referred to the dates on her tombstone
From the beginning to the end.

He noted that first came the date of her birth
And spoke of the second with tears.
But he said that what mattered most of all
Was the dash between those years.

For that dash represents all the time
That she spent alive on earth.
And now only those who loved her
Know what that little line is worth.

For it matters not, how much we own --
The cars, the house, the cash.
What matters is how we live and love
And how we spend our dash.

So think about this long and hard --
Are there things you'd like to change?
For you never know how much time is left
You could be at 'dash mid-range.'

If we could just slow down enough to consider What's true and what's real.
And always try to understand
The way other people feel.

And be less quick to anger
And show appreciation more.
And love the people in our lives
Like we've never loved before.

If we treat each other with respect and more often wear a smile.
Remembering that this special dash
Might only last a little while.

So when your eulogy is being read
With your life's actions to rehash,
Would you be pleased with the things they have to say
About how you spent your dash?

PRAYERS OF THE HEART

Dear God,

It's good to be here. I always feel warm in Your presence, joined together with the members of our community gathered in our beautiful Temple. Sometimes it seems that I don't slow down enough to acknowledge You and the blessings in my life. That's why I love to come to Temple. I am grateful for the chance to stop and step back and experience a rare sense of quietude and purpose. You know that there are always many prayers in my heart, but the words of the public prayers help me to focus them and to gather my own innermost thoughts, especially when I am weary.

I don't always understand the Hebrew but my reading is really improving. Even when I don't understand, the sound and sight of the letters gives me a deep, almost mystical connection to my ancestors and to You. I hope to learn to read better and understand more of our Holy tongue in the coming year. There have been some bruises during the past year, but I guess that goes with life.

There are some people in the community that I have grown distant from, with whom I was once close and whose friendship I would like to again enjoy. As you well know, there were some misunderstandings and hurt feelings. Please help me to take to heart the meaning of these days of turning and give me the strength to say face to face "I'm sorry" and "I forgive."

May my family and I be blessed with a year of health and love and peace and so may our community and the Jewish people be blessed, and may there be peace for Your whole world. Above all, may my children be healthy and know You and walk in your ways, loving Torah and Judaism. Please help me to guide them wisely. If I have offended You, God, I apologize and ask Your forgiveness. Please challenge me in the coming year with the challenge of feeling and accepting Your encouraging love. May You too have a good year and enjoy much joy from Your children.

IF I HAD TWO SOULS

Sometimes it takes twenty minutes, thirty minutes, even forty minutes to make the point you want to in a sermon, and sometimes you can make the point that you want to make in just a couple of sentences.

I ran across a sentence recently which is so simple, so healthy, so wise that I think it is a sermon in itself.

The sentence comes from Rabbi Shlomo Carlebach, the folk singer. Shlomo was born in Europe. He came here from Vienna as a teenager, because of the Nazis. Before he died he went back to Vienna and to several other cities in Austria and in Germany to give concerts. While there, he met with non-Jews as well as with Jews. Someone asked him why he did it. "Don't you hate them?" he was asked.

His answer was: "If I had two souls, I would devote one to hating them. But since I only have one, I don't want to waste it hating."

That is such a simple thought that I want to share it with you in these, the countdown days. We have one life, one soul, just one - we shouldn't waste it on hating: not the Nazis, most of whom are gone by now, not their children, who are not guilty of the sins of their fathers, and surely not the people around us.

Let this be the resolve for the new year: for the sake of our own mental health, let us hate less; let us love more.

Congregation

Eternal God, Master of mercy, give me the gift of remembering. May my memories of the dead be tender and true, undiminished by time; let me recall them, and love them, as they were. Shelter me with the gift of tears. Let me express my sense of loss, my sorrow, my pain, as well as my love, and words unspoken. Bless me with the gift of prayer. May I face You with an open heart, with trusting faith, unembarrassed and unashamed. Strengthen me with the gift of hope. May I always believe in the beauty of life, the power of goodness, the right to joy. May I surrender my being, and the soul of the dead, to Your all-knowing compassion.

Each congregant continues with the appropriate passages among the following, in silent meditation. Personal meditations may also be added.

We rise.

We lovingly recall the members of our congregation who no longer dwell on this earth. They have a special place in our hearts. We pray this day that all who have sustained the loss of loved ones be granted comfort and strength.

Exalted, compassionate God, comfort the bereaved families of this congregation. Help us to perpetuate everything that was worthy in the lives of those no longer with us, whom we remember this day. May their memory endure as a blessing. And let us say: Amen.

A meditation

Our Creator, the Eternal One, delights in life. Because of God's love for us, and because we are so few, each of us is a vital part of God's kingdom. Though we are only flesh and blood, we are irreplaceable. When one of the House of Israel dies, God's own grandeur is diminished. May the memory of all those we remember this day, in love, be an undying source of blessing to us, to our children, to all Israel, and to all humanity.

Congregation

Our dead ones live with the God of life in the realms of eternity. The spirit is wedded to the greater Spirit, when man rises above the dust of the earth, when the soul breaks asunder the fetters of mortality and soars aloft to eternal light. Our dear departed ones revive, full of life, in our memory in this solemn hour and they are near to us in this moment of prayerful meditation. Spirit approaches the Spirit, the rays of eternal mercy shining about them.
